

BIO – ANTHONY RICE (preferred name Tony)

Tony has a good blend of professional experience and business acumen. He served in the Army for 34 years and retired in 2013 as a Lieutenant Colonel. During his military career Tony gained expertise in maintenance engineering, logistics, training development, emergency management, and project management. Complementing his skills and knowledge as a commander, leader and manager; Tony also has a broad scope of business experience having run successful businesses in directorship positions as a primary producer, management consultant and as a share trader. Tony has been an active member and committee representative in various community sports clubs throughout his life. Tony and his partner Chez Edwards, both keen golfers, have been Club members for nine years.

EDUCATION AND TRAINING

Tertiary

Graduate Diploma in Accounting – Latrobe University - 2012

Graduate Diploma in Management Studies - ACT Accreditation Agency - 1995

Diploma in Engineering Maintenance Management - ACT Accreditation Agency - 1991

Professional Education

Graduate of the Officer Cadet School - Portsea – 1982

Graduate of the Army Command and Staff College - Queenscliff - 1995

Training Development Officer Course - Army School of Education - 1998

Advanced Train the Trainer Course - Australian Institute of Management - 1998

Vocational Education

Workplace Trainer and Assessor - Wodonga TAFE – 1997

Certificate IV Workplace Training and Assessment – Training Command Army - 2003

Training Validation Module, Diploma of Training and Assessment – Training Command Army - 2004

Trade Training

Electronics Technician - Army School of Signals - 1980/1981

Communications Operator - Army School of Signals - 1978

Additional Training

Continuous training occurs throughout a military career and besides the normal soldier and commander warfighting skills and knowledge Tony has undertaken training courses in the following learning packages: equipment and stores management, public and non public money accounting, industrial relations, OH&S, resource management, public and war administration, procurement and contract management, and advanced first aid.